

THREE IN THE RACE.

Fish, Malby and Ainsworth Want to Be Speaker.

Rochester, Too, Has Several Outspoken Claimants.

Gov.-Elect Morton May Be Approached on the Subject To-Day.

The fight for the Speakership of the next Legislature is on, and surface indications would make it appear that the battle will be fought and decided in New York City.

Of the 103 Republicans who were elected to the Assembly over To-day have visited Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt in person. Indeed, no eager are the Republicans in and out of office to have speech with Mr. Platt that the Fifth Avenue Hotel, which he makes his home, resembles these days, in the character of its guests, the Capitol at Albany when the bitter contest of last year was on between Hamilton Fish and George R. Malby.

Both Speaker Malby and Mr. Fish were at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning. Both acknowledged that they were ambitious to obtain the Speakership prize, and each expressed himself as confident of winning.

"The Republican policy of last year," said Mr. Malby, "has been heartily endorsed by the people, and they have spoken their approval of it in no uncertain manner. There is no reason, therefore, why Republicans should make a change this year."

Hamilton Fish declined to state whether he has secured anti-election pledges from the newly elected Republicans. "It is a long time before now and January," he said, "and before the Legislature meets, many men may have changed their minds."

Danforth E. Ainsworth, of Oswego, the leader on the House side last year, who dropped out of the Speakership contest to enable his friend, Malby, to win, said that he will not be a candidate for the office. He will see Ex-Senator Platt some time during the day.

Other Republicans, prominent in politics, who have either offices to give or advice to bestow, who came to the Avenue Hotel to-day and haunched its corridors, are: Ex-Senator Hawcock, William Barnes, Jr., Congressman John J. Buchanan, Gen. N. M. Curtis, of St. Lawrence, Assemblyman-elect A. J. Abbot, of Albany, James Keogh, of Albany, Assemblyman Frank Bumenthal, John J. Day, of Rochester, Assemblyman-elect Haines D. Cunningham, Assemblyman-elect E. A. A. Ainsworth, of Tompkins County, John W. Dwight, of Tompkins County, and Horat Krum, of Schoharie County.

When these, with a score of others, individually and in mass, attempted to get Ex-Senator Platt to declare his choice for Speaker, Mr. Platt replied:

"It is too early to make a choice of the next Assembly. There is no choice between the candidates."

When Chairman Hawcock, of the State Committee, was asked to intercede for one of the other candidates, he said:

"The Assembly must choose for its members with its own eyes, without interference from outsiders. The State Committee does not choose for any man's fight, and as Chairman of the State Committee I mean to keep my hands off."

From this it would appear the race is an open one and will ultimately be won by a dark horse.

The contest for the Speakership of the Assembly is somewhat overshadowed by the triangular fight between Malby, Ainsworth and Fish. It is none the less interesting. Charles E. Ainsworth, of Rochester, Collector of Internal Revenue, is a candidate for the office.

Like the rest of the candidates, he has answered from Mr. Platt's office, and is turning his thoughts toward Gov.-Elect Morton, who is held in town shortly before noon to-day.

Cunningham, it was announced this afternoon, has been elected to the office of Speaker. His personal friend, Archie B. Baxter, of Elmira, is candidate for the office.

Mr. Baxter was defeated for the Assembly in the Elmira district. He it was who nominated J. Stott Passett for Governor, and who was elected to the office.

Whether or not the ballots were really thrown out it is impossible to ascertain. The claim is made, however, that such is the case.

Gen. Rodenhough, when spoken to about the matter at Police Headquarters this morning, said that in most instances, where the ballots were accepted in spelling, a slight error in spelling, however, such a glaring error in name is made, such a substitution of the name of Kelroy for Kilroy, the matter would probably have to go to the courts for final decision.

TO DOWN PLATT.

Millican Will Submit a Plan at To-Night's Meeting.

John Millican's antagonism to Thomas C. Platt is well known. To-night at the meeting of the Executive Committee of his organization at the State Club, 25 East Twenty-second street, Millican's plan to down Mr. Platt will be considered, and it is said that it is all out and dried to a crisp.

The scheme is to enroll all the Millican district organizations of the Republican district organization, which the Committee of To-day has brought to its present state of perfection.

NOW FOR FRANCHISES

Aldermen May Take Action Before the New Board Gets In.

One of Them Says They Will "Make Things Hum."

Goodwin May Be Victor After All in the Thirtieth District.

The present Board of Aldermen proposes to do some lively work before it gives place to its successor. One of the east-side Aldermen said at the City Hall to-day:

"We won't be in it after next month, but we are going to make things hum during the next six weeks."

He explained this by saying that the present Board would lose no time in disposing of the applications for national franchises now before the Board. Chief among these is the franchise for a railroad through St. Nicholas avenue and Kingsbridge road to the city line. The Broadway syndicate and the Third Avenue Company want this franchise. It is thought the application will be granted.

Hearings have been held, but a decision was put off until after the election. There are also before the Board several applications for permission to conduct branch surface railroads, and for other privileges. These, according to the present programme, will be speedily disposed of.

The "rumbling" will begin after the election, and it is expected that everything will be cleared out by Christmas.

While it is certain that the new Board of Aldermen will be anti-Tammany, there are a few election districts yet to be heard from officially to decide in cases where the vote is very close.

It has been generally conceded that Goodwin, the Tammany candidate in the Thirtieth, has been defeated, yet when the returns from the Thirty-sixth Election District are counted, the result may show that he has won by a small plurality.

The missing district gave 213 votes for Hill and 58 for Morton. With the district, the vote for Alderman is as follows:

Cushman, R., 2,915
Goodwin, D., 2,915
Hill, R., 2,915
Morton, D., 2,915
Schuyler, R., 2,915
Tamm, D., 2,915
Van Hook, R., 2,915
Ward, D., 2,915
Zabriskie, R., 2,915
Total, 2,915

Assuming that the returns give each candidate the vote he is entitled to, the result is as follows:

Cushman, R., 2,915
Goodwin, D., 2,915
Hill, R., 2,915
Morton, D., 2,915
Schuyler, R., 2,915
Tamm, D., 2,915
Van Hook, R., 2,915
Ward, D., 2,915
Zabriskie, R., 2,915
Total, 2,915

This, however, would not alter the main result, as the Board now stands as follows:

Cushman, R., 2,915
Goodwin, D., 2,915
Hill, R., 2,915
Morton, D., 2,915
Schuyler, R., 2,915
Tamm, D., 2,915
Van Hook, R., 2,915
Ward, D., 2,915
Zabriskie, R., 2,915
Total, 2,915

The election of Goodwin would mean a change in the Board of Aldermen, and it is expected that the new Board will be anti-Tammany.

SHEEHAN'S NEW TUNE

The Prospect of Prosecution Changes His Defiant Attitude.

Now He Says He Issued No Orders to Poll Officials.

How the Pequot Club Resurrected the McGrath License Case.

Although Lawyer W. Travers Jerome, who has been retained by the Committee of Seventy to prosecute election fraud cases, declines to discuss his plans, he was evidently very busy this morning preparing to go to the City Hall to-day.

Mr. Sheehan, who is now beginning to find that he has gotten himself into serious trouble by the free-and-easy manner in which he issued his orders to the poll clerks in the Thirtieth Assembly District on election morning, is now being asked by the Committee of Seventy to go to the City Hall to-day to explain his actions.

Mr. Sheehan makes light of the matter, however, and says now that he is not in a position to go to the City Hall to-day, he will go to-morrow.

WANTED---A MOSES.

Tammany Seeks to Be Led Out of the Political Wilderness.

Gilroy Flatly Refuses and Grant Cannot Be Tempted.

The Tiger to Begin Smoothing Its Ruffled Fur at an Early Day.

The report that Mayor Gilroy will retire from politics after Jan. 1, and enter commercial life, could not be verified to-day through the Mayor himself.

While there is little doubt that he will head the stampede from the City Hall on New Year's Day, he prefers to let his friends tell about his plans for the future.

"I won't say one word on the subject," was his rather testy reply this forenoon, when asked into what channel he intended to direct his business activities.

There is no lack of information on the subject, however. It has long been known that Mayor Gilroy, who is the printing business of the late Martin H. Brown, had fully made up his mind to procure an interest in the establishment, and it was only by the intervention of the Committee of Seventy that he was deterred from buying.

Of course, this was when he had every reason to suppose that Tammany would again have its grip on the City Hall. The Mayor's jealousy and bickering with the Committee of Seventy, and the prospect of another firm setting the public printing contract, were not factors in his decision.

It is as good as settled that Gilroy's name will not be considered in connection with the proposed reorganization of Tammany Hall.

There are a number of young men in the organization, some with good records and others with fair records, as things go in politics, who are anxious to take the Tammany name.

These are heading every effort to bring about the desired results.

They admit that it is folly to elevate toughs and gamblers to positions of responsibility and importance, and declare that there will be no more of it. The business of reorganization will begin here many days if the condition of things warrant it.

Gov. Stone on the Missouri Slump.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—Gov. Stone says the loss of Missouri by the Democrats was due to the state-house contest. He wants a Western man for a Presidential candidate in 1896, and to use a liberal and broad Democratic platform of that year as a basis of consolidation of all the political elements opposed to the Republican party.
